Peer Review Process

The articles and essays submitted for consideration are reviewed anonymously by two experts in the relevant field.

The contributions submitted for evaluation must be strictly unpublished and can not be simultaneously submitted to another publication.

Frequency of publication

The publication frequency of the Journal is half-yearly, publishing two issues per year (April and October).

The reception of originals is open all year, although special calls are made for the case of the oriented numbers.

Ethical guidelines and good practices

The Journal is guided by the principles of transparency, good communication and methodological strictness, as they help to build the users' trust in the efficiency of the publication process and the quality of the literary products achieved.

Sections (core)

Articles: presenting original and unpublished findings or results of research projects based on theoretical perspectives and developed through the application of methodological strategies. Submissions to this section are subject to peer review.

Essays: providing in-depth reflections on one or more topics in a more elaborate writing style. It features original argumentative discussions on issues of disciplinary interest. Submissions to this section are subject to peer review.

Sections

Social Panorama: comprises brief current notes on various social realities and social phenomena in progress - or of recent appearance - through specialized analytical and professional approaches.

International Debates: collects points of view or positions on issues of common interest to professionals and management actors of international relations dedicated to the current agenda of issues that affect or involve, especially, the Asian and African Continents.

[ Book Review and Book Rescue section
Student contributions

Book Review Section

This section comprises critical reviews of academic books recently published, in which its contributions to the different disciplines of the Social Sciences are highlighted.

How to write the review of a book...

- ✓ Select the book.
- ✓ Know how long my text should be.
- ✓ Know the years of publication of books admitted by the Journal in which I plan to send the review.

Write at the beginning of my text
all the information
about the book:

- Title of the book,
  - Author's name,
  - Year of publication,
  - If it is published in a specific collection,
  - Place of publication,
  - Publisher,
  - Number of pages,
  - ISBN.

- Once I have finished writing my text, I have to review it in detail.
- Finally, I will be ready to send the text through the Journal page.

Another possibility... The Book Rescue!

The Book Review Section includes the Book Rescue

What does it mean ?

The Book Rescue is dedicated to the recension of scientific texts that, while not recent, enjoy wide currency and are based on an interdisciplinary approach.

These classic works prove useful in spawning innovative subjects of study and theoretical frameworks through the integration of different disciplines.

The usefulness of Book Rescue for students...

During university study, many times we have to read books that are emblematic, and it is a very good opportunity to prepare a Book Rescue in such a way as to fix that knowledge in our mind.

Finally, another possibility... Student contributions Section

That comprises brief monographs authored by undergraduate and graduate students addressing issues of interest to the Social Sciences disciplines.

They are short texts of 7000-10000 characters.

Open Access Policy

The Journal de Ciencias Sociales, provides open access to its content, based on the principle that offering the public free access to research promotes a greater global exchange of knowledge.

In addition, there is no type of publication or subscription expense. The entire evaluation and editing process is free.

Thank you very much for your participation!
